ISU LIBRARY QUIET STUDY AREA IS OPEN 24/7

FACE TO FACE LIBRARY ORIENTATIONS

AUTHOR OF THE MONTH JANE AUSTEN

Dear Members of the Istinye Family,

Welcome to the 9th volume of ISU Library Bulletin.

As of November 8, Topkapı Library Quiet Study Area started to serve as 24/7. Between November 8 and November 30, between 05:30 pm and 08.00 am, 15,093 people used the library. This use was not limited to the quiet area. An average of 2,550 people benefited from Topkapı and Vadi Libraries daily. During the visa period, ISU Library continued to be in your service.

As of September, the new publications you requested have reached the library, their transactions have been completed and they have taken their place on the shelf. We are waiting for your publication requests these days when the TÜYAP Book Fair starts. Thus, we will continue to serve with the enriched collection. You can find more information about ISU Library facilities on the library website, and you can follow current developments and feelings on our social media accounts.

We continue to progress on the principle of #Lifelonglearning. For this reason, we both organize trainings for our users and make plans for us librarians to receive training. If you want to make better use of the libraries, you can request training on the Library website.

In the 9th issue of ISU Library Bulletin, we have included many topics that we believe will interest you. You can find information in the following sections of the Bulletin. Reading suggestions, news from us, librarian suggests other topics in the Bulletin.

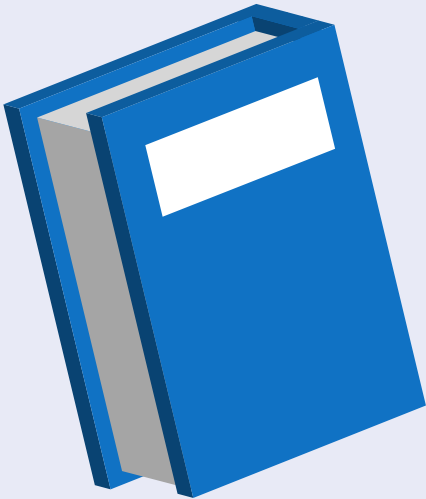

I hope that you will enjoy reading the 9th issue of the ISU Library Bulletin, and I wish all ISU Family a year full of peace, hope and beauty that they can live with their hearts.

Kind regards,

Bahar Biçen Aras
Library Director

RESEARCH SMARTER: CLARIVATE WEB OF SCIENCE DATA AND METRICS APIS

We attended the presentation "Research Smarter: Clarivate Web of Science Data and Metrics APIs" online on 29.11.2022.

Web of Science API portfolio

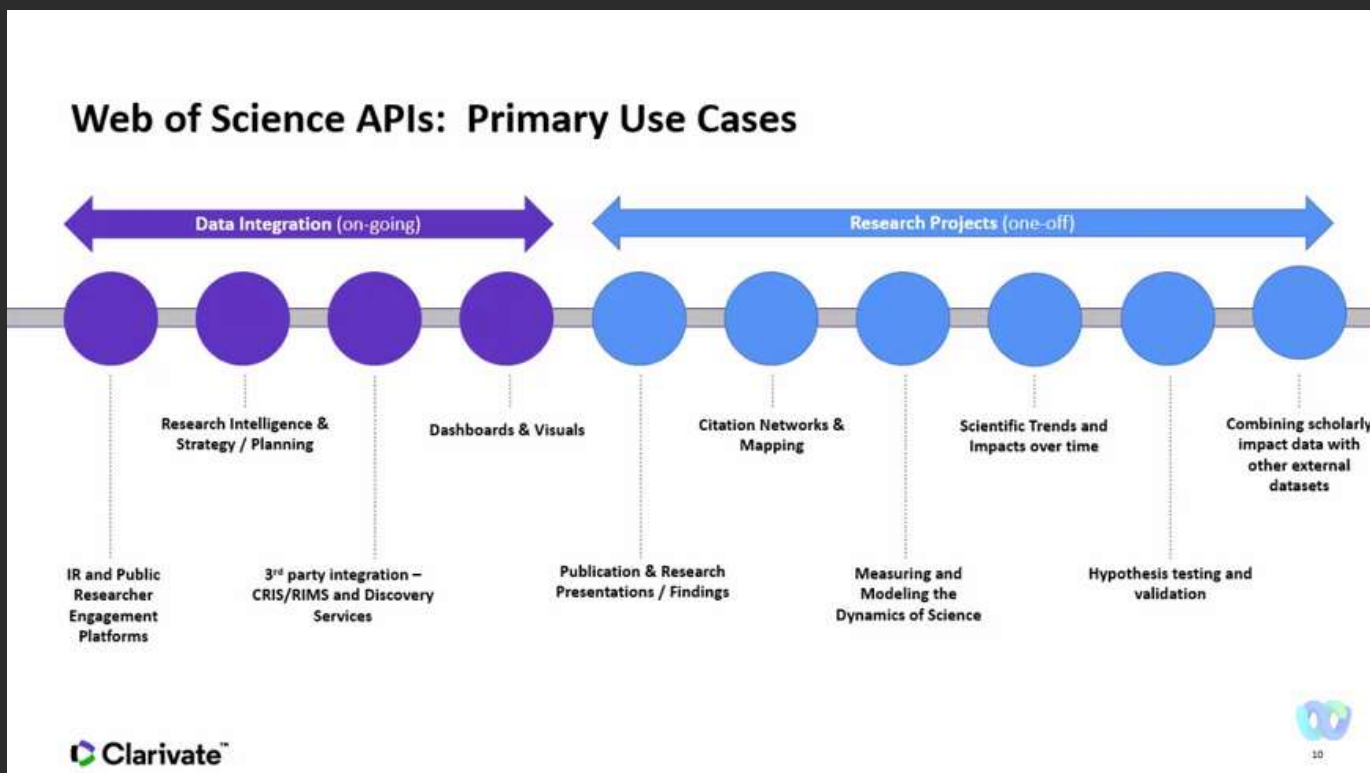

Web of Science API Lite	Article Match Retrieval	Web of Science API Expanded	InCites API	Journals API
This API supports advanced search of the Web of Science Core Collection and retrieval of basic article-level metadata. Reuse this data in publicly available applications, including institutional repositories and research network systems.	The Links Article Match Retrieval Service (AMR) provides real-time metadata checking. This enables you to create article-level links to the Web of Science from external systems and retrieve quoted numbers from the Web of Science.	Everything in Lite API plus additional metadata such as author, affiliation, IDs and funding data.	The InCites API provides article-level metrics that support integration with research management systems or current research information systems (CRIS).	The Journals API complements our set of Web of Science APIs by providing complete journal metadata and metrics from Journal Citation Reports.

AUTHOR OF THE MONTH

JANE AUSTEN

(DECEMBER 16, 1775 - JULY 18, 1817)

19th-century British novelist Jane Austen began writing novels in 1789. She moved to Southampton in 1805 after her father died, and in 1809 she moved to Chawton with her brother. Today, this house has become a museum and a popular place for tourists.

Jane Austen, one of the most famous writers in the world, has made her novels take place among the classics with her descriptions of her period and the characters of her heroes.

The seventh child of a village priest, Jane was educated by her father. She was lucky to receive a better education than the women of that period. In her works, she has treated people's weaknesses with a witty understanding and elegant humor. The protagonists of his novels are all women, and all of his novels have ended in a happy marriage.

All of Jane Austen's novels have been adapted for television or cinema, and 3 of her most successful novels have been made into movies. These are: Love and Life (1995), Emma and Persuasion (both released in 1996.) Pride and Prejudice was a very successful television series in 1995.

"What painter can do justice to those expressive eyes?"

LIBRARIAN SUGGESTS

Curated by Brigitte Pitarakis and Selen Ansen, the exhibition Doesn't Have to be Named meets art lovers at Abdülmecid Efendi Mansion between September 20 and December 11, 2022. Organized with the encouragement of Koç Holding Chairman Ömer M. Koç and the support of Koç Holding, the exhibition questions the representation of the unknown in contemporary art, based on the symbolic world of the Byzantine period regarding the supernatural and the unknown.

His Name Is Not Necessary exhibition focuses on the fascination and uncanny of the unknown. Inspired by the historical and cultural heritage from Byzantium to the present, it traces how forms, beliefs and representations have survived, migrated and transformed throughout history.

Do not forget to immerse yourself in the arms of the uncanny by visiting the exhibition, which will remain open until December 11, 2022, from September 20th to 11:00am, except Mondays.
