Dear Members of the Istinye Family,

We are happy to share the 15th volume of the Library Bulletin with you.

It is an exciting and eventful time for the Istinye Family. On the one hand, we have students who are taking their exams and are in a hurry to graduate, and on the other hand, we are in a hurry to prepare for the new campus building. Our plans and preparations are complete, and we are working to appear before you with stronger, targeted and innovations in the next semester.

We constantly reiterate that our most important principle is #LifeLongLearning, and you know this very well now. In May, we continued our trainings, which we created with your requests, without slowing down. The e-mails from the Training Request form and your interest in the library make us happy.

I think everyone agrees with the views that libraries shape social life. Libraries, which are the center of many innovations and shape society, are also at the center of sustainability efforts.

The poster we prepared on this subject was accepted and published at IFLA. We are proud to be the first library from Turkey to participate in this study and to mention the name of our country and our university on an international platform. I would like to thank my colleagues for their efforts.

We have added new areas to our library web page. We have tried to organize a web page where you can find information in different areas such as "Sustainability", "Integrity in research", "Open Science", "Scientific communication", which will support and guide your studies. You can visit the ISU Library page and share your opinions with us. The web page will be more accessible and useful with your opinions and suggestions.

In the bulletin, we shared with you the activities we carried out during May. In addition, Librarian recommends, which is a must for the bulletin, is full again. I hope you will enjoy the book, exhibition and podcast recommendations we have for you.

Best regards,

Bahar Biçen Aras
Head of Information Resources and Library Department

Seminar Content:

- Leveraging valuable insights to explore how the organization can improve its Sustainable Development Goals reports using a data-driven approach, and to identify research avenues within current and emerging scientific trends
- Develop an understanding of bibliometric approaches to setting and evaluating the UN Sustainable Development Goals
- Data and tools for creating Sustainable Development Goals documents
- Protecting the MENA Region Sustainable Development Goals research environment
- To learn how to identify the research unit within the trend sciences that are hot and developing in the MENA region

IFLA

(International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions)

- The International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions is an international body representing the interests of people who rely on libraries and information professionals.
- A non-profit organization, IFLA was founded in Scotland in 1927 with headquarters at the National Library of the Netherlands in The Hague.
- Vision: To create a strong and integrated global library field area that strengthens literate, informed and participatory societies
- Mission: To inspire, engage, enable and connect the global library field
- At every opportunity, IFLA emphasizes the importance of "advocacy" and "awareness" of libraries in sustainability efforts.
- In Turkey, the umbrella organization for librarians is the Turkish Librarians Association.
- IFLA advocacy for libraries in NGOs has focused on the argument that increasing access to and the ability to use information and knowledge supports development and improves lives.
- "Literacy - Information literacy"
- The IFLA Guidelines state that libraries should always work with decision-makers to ensure that libraries have a voice in the government's plan for how it will implement the Sustainable Development Goals.
- The Sustainable Development Goals consist of 17 articles and 169 sub-goals.

Here are 3 items in which libraries are actively involved:

- End extreme poverty
- Fighting inequality and injustice
- Climate change prevention and adaptation

SUSTAINABILITY AT ISU LIBRARY

Libraries around the world are actively involved in sustainability efforts. For this reason, we have prepared a page on the Istinye University Library web page where we explain sustainability efforts. We will continue to develop this page.

ISU Library sustainability page

In addition, our posters, which we prepared in Turkish and English in order to contribute to the studies on sustainability under the roof of IFLA, were accepted and published today on IFLA's "Environment, Sustainability and Libraries - Green Library Poster" page. We were the first library from Turkey to participate in this study.

You can view our poster works and the related web page via the links below.

AUTHOR OF THE MONTH

BUKET UZUNER

(October 3, 1955 -)

She studied biology and environmental science at Hacettepe University and METU, as well as at the University of Bergen (Norway) and the University of Michigan (USA). She worked as a researcher at Tampere Technical University (Finland).

Buket Uzuner, whose novels have been translated into ten languages, became an "honorary member" of the University of Iowa (USA) in 1996 and was honored with a certificate of appreciation by the METU Senate in 2004. In 2016, the author received the "Story Honor Award" given by Ankara University and Ankara Story Days Association.

Buket Uzuner was selected as one of the "75 Successful Women of the Republic" in the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Republic of Turkey by the votes of a jury composed of Turkish universities, press, professional organizations and the governorships of 81 provinces.

Her "TABIAT FOURTEEN" novels "Water", "Earth", "Air" and "Fire", in which she deals with "climate change" and environmental problems and uses fantastic elements from Turkish Mythology, continue to be published.

"It is the love of DNA that made me write all these novels"

LIBRARIAN SUGGESTS

EXHIBITION

*No Other Records Found:
Reşad Ekrem Koçu and Istanbul Encyclopedia Archive*

SALT
GALATA

MAY 24 - OCTOBER 29, 2023

No Other Records: Reşad Ekrem Koçu and the Istanbul Encyclopedia Archive sheds light on the published sections of the Istanbul Encyclopedia, to which historian and novelist Reşad Ekrem Koçu (1905-1975) dedicated most of his life.

Spread across the floors of Salt Galata, the exhibition treats the building as an urban focus and presents its selection of materials within a framework built around the Galata neighborhood. It brings to the fore the exceptional urban image Koçu created of Galata and its immediate surroundings and its inhabitants from the early 19th century to the mid-20th century.

It traces the archival footprints of the "riffraff" who lived for a century in the urban space surrounding the building in question; those who lived relatively "freer" outside the traditional neighborhood order of Istanbul. Rather than repeating the house-neighborhood-monument-based narrative that dominates urban studies, this line pursues the uncanny elements under Koçu's guidance.

For detailed information about the exhibition, please visit the Salt Galata page.
