SAİT FAİK
ABASIYANIK

Dear Members of the Istinye Family,

We are happy to share the 16th issue of the Library Bulletin with you.

We have reached the last days of the busy 2022 - 2023 academic year. It is time for our 4th and 6th graders to experience the pride of graduating. We sincerely congratulate all our graduates and would like to express that we are always with them.

The Istanbul Cultural Heritage Digital Library (DijitalKütüpİST) project, of which we are a stakeholder at Istinye University, which values collaborations and experience transfer, has come to an end. On February 15, 2022, the official process started and on June 12, we held the closing meeting at Istanbul University. You can review the details of the project on the following pages of the bulletin. We are happy to contribute to making treasures accessible. With the studies to be carried out, the works will be protected and their wear and tear will be prevented by making them digitally accessible. We hope that this project, which will make a great contribution to intellectual accumulation, will expand in the future and be presented to researchers and enthusiasts in a pool that covers the whole country and includes rare works from different countries globally. Istinye University librarians will always be proud to be a stakeholder in these projects.

The increase in digitalization has also brought open science and open information. As a library, we started to prepare a guide about "Open Science" on the Library web page in order to support the studies on this subject. We are working to improve this guide with different information every day. You can share your opinions with us by visiting the ISU Library page. The web page will be more accessible and useful with your opinions and suggestions.

As a library, we attach importance to participating in trainings and working to transfer what we have learned in order to provide quality service. We constantly reiterate that our most important principle is #LifeLongLearning. For your training requests, you can fill out the training request form on the Library's website.

In this issue of the bulletin, we hope you will enjoy the author and book of the month and the suggestions from the Librarian section we have prepared for you. I hope that the summer period, during which the work on the new library building for ISU Library intensifies, will be full of hope and peace for the Istinye Family.

Best regards,

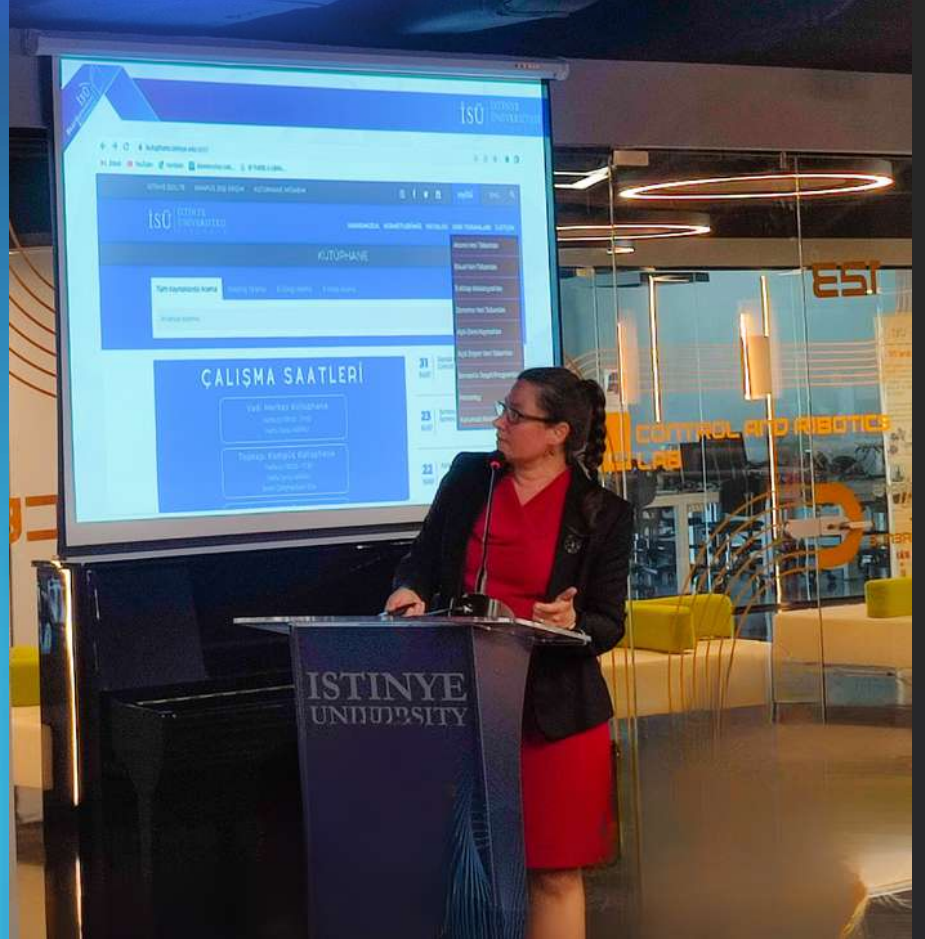

Bahar Biçen Aras
Head of Information Resources and Library Department

MONDAY MEETINGS

June 5, 2023

Bahar Biçen Aras, Head of the Library Department, will meet with Istinye University academic and administrative staff at the "Monday Meetings" meeting to be held on the first Monday of each month.

He explained ISU Library practices.

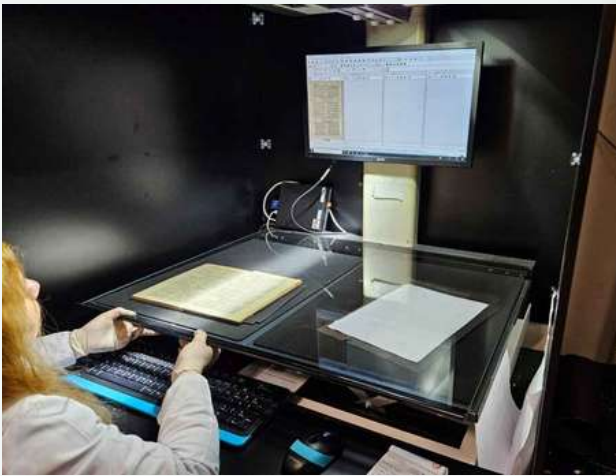

Istanbul Cultural Heritage Digital Project

With the DigitalKütüpüpİST project, valuable works such as manuscripts, rare books, newspapers, photographs, maps and Ottoman period music scores in the collections of libraries were digitized and made available on a platform.

Rare books in the collection of Istinye University Library were also digitized within the scope of this project.

OPEN SCIENCE

WEB PAGE

Open access means that scientific publications are directly searchable on the web, available in digital form on the internet under an open license, and can be read by anyone, Copyright means the ability to download, copy and distribute the material.

In line with this information, in order to support academic studies we created the "Open Science" page.

OPEN SCIENCE AT ISTINYE UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC OUTPUTS

OPEN EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

OPEN ACCESS DATABASES

OPEN ACCESS JOURNAL LISTS

FINDING E-JOURNALS FOR ACADEMIC PUBLICATIONS

OPEN ACCESS E-BOOKS

All research outputs published with the address of Istinye University must be archived in the University's Institutional Academic Archive. Thus, the data of all studies belonging to the University will be accessible within the framework of copyright. Encourages researchers to actively inform about research results and inform the public about them. Encourages publishing research outputs in open access peer-reviewed journals with high impact value. Publishing the studies and research results of research groups conducted with the address of Istinye University on an open access basis increases the reliability and reproducibility of the studies as well as increased scientific communication among researchers. In addition, these academic outputs contribute to the researches carried out in different projects to reach results in a shorter time thanks to open science.

Suna Kan's Life

(October 21, 1936 - June 11, 2023)

A "child prodigy" whose talent is identified at an early age as one of the best violin virtuosos in Turkey was recognized; for many years he was a member of the Presidential Symphony Orchestra. She worked as a soloist and concertmaster. She has held the title of "state artist" since 1971.

She was born in Adana, Suna Kan took her first violin lessons from her father Nuri Kan when he was five years old. Also Walter Gerhardt, Gilbert Back, He studied with İzzet Nezihi Albayrak and Lico Almar. She performed Mozart's 5th Violin Concerto at her first concert, she was only nine years old. In 1948 İdil Biret and Suna Kan were recognized under the law on child prodigy. She was sent to Paris.

She graduated from the conservatory, where she studied as a student of Gabriel Bouillon, with the first prize in 1952. Suna Kan won first prize at the Geneva International Competition in 1954, second prize at the Viotti International Competition in 1955 and second prize at the Munich International Competition in 1956. In 1957, he received the Paris City Prize at the M. Long - J. Thibaud International Competition. For many years, he worked as concertmaster and soloist in the Presidential Symphony Orchestra and the Ankara Chamber Orchestra, of which he was one of the founders.

Suna Kan, who adopted the principle of including a wide repertoire of contemporary violin literature and especially the works of Turkish composers in her programs, was honored with the title of State Artist in 1971 for her contribution to Turkish art and outstanding services. Kan, who has toured extensively abroad and performed in almost all continents, has given concerts in England, France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, Sweden, Norway, Russia, China, Japan, Canada, the USA and South America. The orchestras accompanying our artist, who interprets concertos with high-level orchestras, can be listed as follows: London Symphony, Los Angeles Philharmonic, Bamberg Symphony, Moscow Symphony, French National Radio Symphony. Istvan Kertesz, Walter Susskind, Zubin Mehta, Hans Rosbaud, Louis Fremaux, Gotthold Lessing, Michel Plasson, Yehudi Menuhin, Igor Bezrodni, Pierre Fournier, Andre Navarra, Frederick Riddle are among the famous conductors who accompanied the artist with the orchestras he conducted.

In 1996, the artist was awarded the Gold Medal of Honor from the Sevda - Cenap And Music Foundation. In 1997, Müşerref Hekimoğlu wrote "Suna Kan: The Violin That Hears Its Own Song" was published by the Sevda - Cenap And Music Foundation.

Suna Kan died on June 11, 2023.

AUTHOR OF THE MONTH

SAİT FAİK ABASIYANIK

November 18, 1906 - May 11, 1954

Turkish short story and novel writer, poet. One of the leading writers of Turkish storytelling, Sait Faik is considered one of the cornerstones of Turkish literature for his contributions to contemporary storytelling.

A museum named after Sait Faik Abasıyanık was opened in Burgazada on August 22, 1959. In the museum, the author's belongings, photographs, letters, postcards, and many other items and documents that bear the traces of his countless memories that are the subject of his works meet with visitors.

The museum house, which takes its readers on a fascinating journey through Sait Faik's literary and spiritual world, serves free of charge in accordance with the author's will.

You can visit the museum on site or virtually.

UTOPIA

Sir Thomas More is one of the rare people who has the honor of being compared to Socrates. His immortal work Utopia has become a world classic and is still widely read today. Utopia, written almost five hundred years ago, is dominated by Humanism in the broadest sense, that is, love and respect for humanity.

A state founded by ordinary people who do not consider anyone superior to anyone else: Thomas More's Utopia. A paradise on earth.

Thomas More was a 16th-century writer who distinguished himself throughout his judgeship for his honesty and fairness and, like Plato, was in a sense condemned to death for it. In Utopia (1516), published nearly five hundred years ago, More presents a "paradise on earth", so to speak, and an example of "social happiness" that is still cited today.

Running from May 11 to July 29 at Akbank Sanat, 'Prism Expanded: Poetics of Perception' consists of the works of three prominent directors and three film professionals from three different generations of Turkish cinema. The exhibition will showcase site-specific and experience-based cinematic works that are co-produced by the directors and film professionals as a duo. This is also the first 'Prizma Expanded' project of Prizma, the independent art initiative founded by artist and curator Lara Kamhi to fully explore the concept of 'Expanded Cinema'. Prizma Expanded explores expanded cinematic art forms with the awareness of new ways of thinking proposed by communication networks such as social media, technologies that offer inclusive experiences and interactive storytelling.
