Dear Members of İstinye University,

Welcome to the 23rd issue of İSU Library Bulletin.

We have started a busy academic semester with its new campus and new library. I wish everyone a pleasant academic semester.

In October, we continue to organize trainings in which we explain that our students, academics and administrative staff who have recently joined the İSU Family can access the information they need in an accurate, reliable and fast way.

While we were working on the commissioning of the new building, we also worked to expand the collection. During this period, the publications received by the Library were processed by the Library Technical Services Unit in accordance with international library standards and added to the collection. Don't forget to check out the "New Arrivals Shelf" at the main entrance of the Library.

October is known as "Open Science Month" by those who support open science. As İSU Library, we support open science, which means transparency, sharing and inclusiveness, and we closely follow the efforts to promote open science.

You can find more information about İSU Library facilities on the Library's website, and you can follow current developments and announcements on our social media accounts.

On the following pages of the newsletter, you can find suggestions for authors, books, museums, concerts and podcasts in the librarian suggests section. We would like to remind you that we are waiting for your suggestions for this section.

I hope you will enjoy reading the 23rd issue of our newsletter.

I commemorate the great leader Gazi Mustafa Kemal ATATÜRK with mercy, gratitude and gratitude on the 86th anniversary of his passing away.

Best Regards,
Bahar Biçen Aras
Head of Information Resources and Library Department

2024 Open Access Week Theme

“Social Benefit Instead of Commercialization”

Open Access Week 2024 is an opportunity to come together, take action and raise awareness about the importance of community control of knowledge sharing systems. The event is celebrated by individuals, institutions and organizations worldwide and its organization is led by a global advisory committee. The official hashtag for Open Access Week is #OAweek.

This year, we are using the hashtag “AE”, which we have been using for many years in Turkey, as #AE2024.

This year, it continues with last year's theme of “Community over Commercialization” and encourages a frank discussion about which approaches to open scholarship best prioritize the interests of the public and the academic community, and which do not.

Breast Cancer Awareness Month

Early Diagnosis Saves Lives!

Breast cancer, which is the most common cancer in women in our country and in the world and also the most common cause of death, is caused by the uncontrolled proliferation of cells in the breast tissue. On February 4, 2021, the World Health Organization announced that breast cancer has risen to the first place as 11.7% of all newly diagnosed cancers. In October, the “Pink Ribbon” theme is used in awareness–raising activities around the world.

As a social responsibility, we, as ISU Library, support the event organized by Istinye University Pharmacy Club students within the scope of Breast Cancer Awareness Month with the slogan “be informed, reduce risks” with the resources on “Breast Cancer” in the library.

ORHAN VELİ KANİK

13 APRIL 1914 - 14 NOVEMBER 1950

ORHAN VELİ KANİK, MORE HE IS KNOWN AS “ORHAN VELİ”. KANİK, THE FOUNDER OF THE INNOVATIVE GARİP MOVEMENT TOGETHER WITH MELİH CEVDET AND OKTAY RİFAT, AIMED TO FUNDAMENTALLY CHANGE THE OLD STRUCTURE OF TURKISH POETRY AND BROUGHT THE DISCOURSE OF THE MAN ON THE STREET INTO THE LANGUAGE OF POETRY.

ORHAN VELİ REFUSED TO USE THE SYLLABIC AND PROSODY METERS IN ORDER TO CREATE A NEW TASTE. HIS WORKS, WHICH WENT BEYOND THE TRADITIONS, ALWAYS AROUSED INTEREST, EVEN THOUGH THEY WERE FIRST MET WITH ASTONISHMENT AND DISBELIEF, THEN AMUSEMENT AND CONTEMPT. ALTHOUGH HE CAME TO THE FOREFRONT WITH HIS POEMS WRITTEN DURING THE STRANGE PERIOD, ORHAN VELİ AVOIDED WRITING “ONE-GENRE” POEMS. KANİK'S LITERARY LIFE CONSISTED OF DIFFERENT STAGES, AS HE CONSTANTLY SEARCHED, RENEWED HIMSELF AND EXPERIENCED A LONG POETRY ADVENTURE DURING HIS SHORT LIFE.

YILDIZ PALACE

BUILT ON A HIGH LAND OVERLOOKING THE BOSPHORUS AND MARMARA SEA, YILDIZ PALACE WAS THE LAST GREAT PALACE BUILT BY THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE IN İSTANBUL.

THE FIRST PAVILION IN THE YILDIZ PALACE AREA WAS BUILT DURING THE REIGN OF SULTAN SELİM III (1789-1807). ALTHOUGH SUBSEQUENT SULTANS SHOWED INTEREST IN THE GROVES AND GARDENS IN THE REGION, THE NAME OF YILDIZ PALACE BECAME SYNONYMOUS WITH SULTAN ABDÜLHAMİD II (1876-1909).

THE SULTAN NAMED THE AREA “YILDIZ PALACE” AND DESIGNATED IT AS HIS PRIMARY RESIDENCE. YILDIZ PALACE WENT DOWN IN HISTORY AS THE LAST ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER OF THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE AND THE LAST RESIDENCE OF THE SULTAN.

LIBRARIAN SUGGESTS EXHIBITION

Farz Et Ki Sen Yoksun

Curator: Selen Ansen

Until December 29, 2024

Curated by Selen Ansen, the exhibition titled "Suppose You Don't Exist" explores the affinities established between different objects as a result of a collector's dreams and realizations, and the possibilities of moving the body created from the home to the museum as a space. Featuring the works of nearly 400 artists as well as anonymous works, mass productions and miscellaneous items, the exhibition spreads across Arter's 4th and 3rd floor galleries.

By treating the collection as a multifaceted and living body, "Pretend You Don't Exist" encourages us to reflect on the intimacy of the ordinary with the extraordinary, as well as on the practice of collecting and the objects that surround our everyday lives.

The thousands of works and objects that come together in the exhibition open up a vital field of vision for new associations through the intimacies they establish in the space.

BOOK

DOĞANIN SONU

BILL MCKIBBEN

Doğanın sonu is a book that tells the story of how man is irreversibly changing the climate of the entire world and is rapidly leading a large part of the living world to extinction, as the scientific community first demonstrated almost a century ago, and then proved with mathematical certainty at increasingly frequent intervals until today. The first book on global warming. And it does so in a very clear and simple language that ordinary people, all of us, can understand.” - Ömer Madra What is global warming? Why does it occur? Is nature, as we often think, an ancient friend that never changes and will never come to an end, or is there an end to nature as we know it?

More importantly, do we have the chance to change the future of our planet? This book is a work that seeks answers to all these questions and invites the reader to think about both today and tomorrow. This fundamental text of McKibben, which continues to remain relevant, is being published in Turkish for the first time. The foreword written by the author specifically for the Turkish edition and the introduction written by Ömer Madra also function as a review of the developments since the book was first published in 1989. With the rigor of a scientist and the style of a man of letters, McKibben puts before us the problems that no one living in the world can remain indifferent to. As he reiterates in his preface to the Turkish edition: “We no longer have to warm the climate. We can keep our world spinning in other ways. But this requires foresight, courage and good management.” “It is like a kind of song for nature, an elegy for the lost and a plea for action.
